ASK REMOVAL OF STREET CAR TRACKS

East Washington Citizens Are Urged to Support Plans for Improvements.

Removal of the street railway tracks from the reservation in the center of Pennsylvania avenue southeast, svill be sought before Congress, said Dr. C. M. Emmons, president of the East Washington Citizena' Association, at a meeting last night. Dr. Emmons urged that it be given the support of the association. The matter was referred to the executive committee.

The association voted to urge a cross town street car line in East Washing, ton, preferably in Nineteenth street. Resolutions calling upon the Board of Education for an estimate of furnishing schools were referred to the executive committee.

FIRST CIRCUS BABY BORN IN TWILIGHT

Child of Dog-Face Man and Bearded Lady Coming to Washington.

The first twilight sleep baby born in a circus—and the prettiest baby in the world, her mother declares—is Miss Artie Nelson, the daughter of the bearded lady and the original dog-faced man who form part of the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace shows to be seen here next Monday and Tuesday, September 27

While there are many children with the big circus, tiny Miss Nelson is said to be its pet and its joy. She was born in Minneapolis while the show was playin Minneapolis while the show was playing its annual engagement in that city, and she is said to be a direct contradiction of most of the theories of the eugenists in that she shows none of the characteristics of either of her distinguished parents. Her father is the original Joe-Joe, the dog-faced man, and he is extremely proud of his little daughter. The Nelson family has already made plans for the youngsters future. She is to be brought up in the circus, and one day, they declare, she will be its queen.

There are a number of children, the little sons and daughters of the performers, traveling with the show, and they have all the advantages of the children who live in regular cities. School is have all the advantages of the children who live in regular cities. School is held every day, with Prof. Arthur Borella as master. During the atternoon and evening performances Borella is the head clown of the big corps of funmakers with the show, but during school hours he is as severe and learned as a schoolmaster should be. His classes are not confined to the children, as they include one of the young Belgian horsewomen who is perfecting her English and one of the young American aeriaits, who is studying mathematics with the idea that it will assist him in his work.

Just Try This When Hairy Growths Appear

A smooth, hairless skin always follows the use of a paste made by mixing some water with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone.

'For Rent" Sign Hangs Out at Old Bryan Home

Former Secretary of State Bryan is waiting responses to an advertisement inserted in Washington papers for the sub-leasing of Calumet Place before severing his connection with the Capital's social life.

Mr. Bryan rented Calumet Place, the handsome place at Thirteenth and Clifton streets, owned by Mrs. John A. Logan, with a lease which, it is said, called for a $4,000 annual rental for four years. There is still a year and a half to run under the lease, and Mr. Bryan is seeking to sublet the property furnished as it was during his residence there while premier. Mr. Bryan has winter homes in Florida and Texas, a place at Asheville, and still maintains his old nome place at Lincoln, Neb. He does not ex-pect to spend enough time in Washing-ton during the next eighteen roomths to justify maintaining a home here.

TO HAVE VAUDEVILLE

Marcus Loew Will Take Over Management of Playhouse in This City.

Another vaudeville house will be added to Washington's roster when the Columbia Theater begins its fall season on October 11 under the management of Marcus Loew, whose lease is to extend for five years. The Loew theaters are better known in New York and New England than they are in this part of the country, but with houses in Washington and Battimore an extension even farther south is predicted.

The present Columbia Theater has been built nearly twenty years, first opening its doors in 1896. During this time it has presented $2 attractions during the winter months, and for many summers maintained a popular stock company. A film company leased the theater during the summer months, and season on October 11 under the man-its existence, the Columbia Theater has been owned by Frank and Oliver Metserott, who jointly managed the estate of their father.

The elder Metzerott, William G., was, before the civil war, one of the leading dealers in musical instruments in this city, with a reputation for man-ing dealers in musical instruments in this city, with a reputation for managing first-class amusements.

After the civil war Mr. Metzerott occupied the Iron Hall, in Pennsylvania avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets northwest. Later he removed to Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue and gave a number of famous recitals. He died in 1884, and his sons took charge of his work. In 1891 the Metzerotts improved the Twelfth street property, where the Columbia Theater now is located, and built the Metzerott's Music Hall.

The present Columbia Theater was erected in 1898 and was opened with Grau's Grand English Opera Company. The theater since then has been owned and opened exclusively by the Metzerott familie.
